Taking photos with smartphones has become practically commonplace in recent years. The quality of mobile phone photos has improved so much over the years that there is hardly any difference to cheap digital cameras. Nevertheless, there are some concrete possibilities to make even better snapshots with your smartphone. In this workshop you will get valuable tips on how to become an expert in taking photos with your mobile from our speakers from the Fotoclub Heligon. The unique cultural landscape between Unter- and Obergurgl offers plenty of suitable motifs.
