We also do research in the winter! - With our “Survivalist” programme we will research outdoors how butterflies, salamanders and the like defy winter time. “Birds at the Bird Feeder” takes place mostly outdoors and deals with the very same topic. Which birds spend the winter here and how do we best feed them? Selected animals of our multimedia exhibition are examined closely during the “Exhibition Researchers” programme. All three programmes share that they end in a relaxed way with storytelling at the campfire. Current information is available on Facebook, Instagram and on our website www.naturpark-oetztal.at.
